YOUNG MASTERS TOUR 2010

Presented by The Cynthia Corbett Gallery

Chris Antemann, Tea Party 2010

Young Masters Revisited which opens in October 2010 is the final show of the Young Masters Tour 2010 which over the last year has toured an excerpt of The Young Masters Art Prize 2009 internationally.

Young Masters Revisited features emerging and newly established artists whose work is inspired by Old Masters. Through painting, photography, sculpture, and installation, each artist references an element of the established art historical canon, either through technique, imagery, or subject matter, whilst establishing an undeniably contemporary spin on highly revered paintings. The artists offer images that are familiar icons, often instantly recognisable, yet re-interpreted, distorted and somewhat uncanny.

The Young Masters Art Prize is an initiative conceived by Cynthia Corbett, Director of The Cynthia Corbett Gallery. The Young Masters Exhibition 2009 and was curated by Beth Colocci and Constance Slaughter and was the official launch for the inaugural Young Masters Art Prize sponsored by AXA UK which will run biannually. The Young Masters Art Prize was awarded to co winners Hector de Gregorio and Ghost of a Dream, who were selected by an independent selection committee including artist, Tom Hunter and Lock Anderson Kresler, Head of Sales, Christie's Post-War and Contemporary Art department.

In October/November 2010, Young Masters Revisited curated by Matthew Reeves will open over three venues. Part 1 will open at Sphinx Fine Art, Old Master Dealer in Kensington, W8. Artists will be invited to respond to the Archive held by Sphinx Fine Art; Part 2 Young Masters Revisited at The Old Truman Brewery, London E1 as part of Photomonth 2010 and to coincide with the 2010-2011 exhibition Exhibitionism: The Art of Display at The Courtauld Institute of Art, Somerset House, East Wing IX, where an excerpt of Young Masters is currently on display The Cynthia Corbett Gallery will present Young Masters at the Courtauld - Lluís Barba in the "Pop Up" space of East Wing IX.
