San Mei Gallery is pleased to present our third annual winter fundraising exhibition, featuring a variety of artworks, ceramics, prints, sculptures and more. Including work by a number of emerging and mid-career artists, all artworks and objects are available to buy at affordable prices for all your festive present-giving needs.

This year's fundraiser takes inspiration from gardens, understood as experimental spaces for nurturing and play, based around rituals of cultivation and harvest. Each of the participating artists has created something that draws from gardens and nature, or could indeed be put to use in one.

All works can be bought in person at the gallery or online, and may be collected straight away just in time for winter holidays.

This fundraiser takes place in the front entrance of San Mei Gallery, alongside Between Me and You, a group exhibition celebrating the five-year anniversary of the gallery, which is on view in the main gallery between 4 November–17 December 2022.

Your support

Money raised through this fundraiser directly supports San Mei Gallery's 2023 exhibitions programme as well as the participating artists themselves. As a non-profit organisation, San Mei Gallery provides an important platform for emerging artists and other creative practitioners at a crucial stage in their careers, offering them the opportunity to experiment and test new ideas.
